

Sit-Stand Experts

Sit-Stand is a 'hot topic' and many office dealers have jumped on the bandwagon. However, replacing standard desks with Sit-Stand desks is not just a furniture exchange. It brings culture change too because the issue is not about standing more, but sitting less.

For a successful transition, you need a furniture partner who understands the issues of introducing Sit-Stand furniture and who offers user training with employer support and additional resources.

We have been in Workplace Ergonomics for more than 25 years and selling Sit-Stand products for nearly two decades. Why not talk this through with us?

The UK's most knowledgeable supplier of innovative products and services to improve workplace wellbeing and productivity.
